We reserve the right to inform relevant authorities, other online gaming or gambling operators, other online service providers and banks, credit card companies, electronic payment providers or other financial institutions of Your identity and of any suspected Prohibited Practice by You, and You shall cooperate fully with us to investigate any such activity.

12.8. OTHER PROHIBITED USE AND CONDUCT

12.8.1. Bum Hunting: "Bum hunting" refers to the act of selectively targeting specific players perceived as weaker, while deliberately avoiding action against other opponents. This practice undermines fair play and the competitive integrity of the platform. Examples of bum hunting include, but are not limited to:

- Sitting out at cash game tables until a particular user joins, then immediately resuming play;
- Following a specific user's activity in the lobby and joining games only when that user is seated;
- Consistently leaving or refusing to play once preferred opponents leave the table.

While sitting out may be acceptable in certain circumstances (such as when starting a table), repeatedly denying action to some players while selectively engaging others is strictly prohibited. The Company reserves the right to investigate patterns of this behaviour and take corrective action, which may include warnings, gameplay restrictions, or account sanctions.

12.8.2. Buttoning, or grimming, is the act of playing heads-up with the intent to avoid paying an equal share of big blinds, typically by quitting early or selectively withholding action to gain an edge. This behaviour is considered unfair and is not permitted on the Website. The Company follows a common-sense policy and does not expect players to track big blind counts during long heads-up sessions. Only pure heads-up sessions are reviewed for buttoning; hands played on short-handed or breaking 6-max tables are excluded.

If a player loses most or all of their stack, they are not expected to rebuy, and such situations are not treated as buttoning violations. Any other form of blind avoidance will be determined and resolved at the sole discretion of the company. Repeated abuse may lead to warnings, play restrictions, or further disciplinary actions at the Company's discretion.

12.8.3. Ratholing: Ratholing occurs when a player joins a table with a short stack, increases their chip count to a certain threshold, then leaves the table and re-enters another table at the same stakes with the minimum buy-in. This practice, also referred to as hit and running, is strictly prohibited as it disrupts game balance and exploits table dynamics. Hit and running also more broadly refers to a player leaving a table shortly after winning a significant pot, thereby depriving opponents of a fair opportunity to recover losses. While leaving a table is a normal part of gameplay, repeated patterns of this behaviour—especially when timed immediately after large wins—may be flagged for abuse. Factors considered in determining a violation include:

- The size and timing of the pot won before departure;
- The number of hands played post-win;
- The frequency of this behaviour across sessions or tables.

Customers who repeatedly engage in ratholing or hit and running may be subject to warnings, temporary restrictions, removal of rewards, account suspensions, or permanent bans, at the discretion of the Company.

12.8.4. Table Blocking / Camping: Joining heads up tables without the intention of playing, denying other players action by sitting out (and not leaving the table) or simply sitting at a table to prevent other players access to the table is prohibited.

12.8.5. Language and Content: You are expressly prohibited from posting inappropriate content and/or language while using the Website, including but not limited to any language and/or content that Company's employees deem to be unlawful, obscene, libellous, defamatory, threatening, or other material that would violate the law. This includes, but is not limited to:

- Begging or Solicitation: Repeatedly asking other players for chips (whether play money or real money) is not permitted under any circumstances.
- Discussing Hands Mid-Game: Players are asked to refrain from "table talk," "coffee-housing," or discussing the contents or potential outcomes of hands while they are in progress. This applies to both participants in the hand and spectators. Repeated abuse of this rule may result in temporary suspension or permanent restriction from the platform.

The Company is not responsible for verbal remarks and their real or perceived consequences made using the chat function. You may not commit slander or libel against the Company. These provisions apply to all areas of communication on the Website, including but not limited to the Website's chat function, player images (including avatars, graphics, and/or text), and player names and usernames.

12.8.6. Impersonation: You may not engage in any form of impersonation of an entity, official, employee, any person whoever, or misrepresent any relationship

12.8.8.

EPA Programs, Bots, Real-Time Assistance (RTA) and Unauthorized Tools: the Company prohibits those External Player Assistance Programs ("EPA Programs") which are designed to provide an "unfair advantage" to users or to monitor or copy Our website. The Company defines "external" to mean computer software and non-software-based databases or profiles (e.g. web sites and subscription services). The Company defines an "unfair advantage" as any instance in which a user accesses or compiles information on other users beyond that which the user has personally observed through the user's own game play. The use of artificial intelligence including, without limitation, "robots" ("Bots") is strictly forbidden in connection with Company Services.

12.8.8.1 All players are strictly prohibited from using any form of Real-Time Assistance (RTA), which is defined as any tool, software, or service that actively provides decision-making support during gameplay without human intervention, including but not limited to tools that analyse the current game state and suggest or automatically execute actions in real time. The use of RTA undermines the principles of the game and is considered a serious violation of our Terms and Conditions. Any player found to be using RTA will be subject to immediate account suspension, disqualification from ongoing games or tournaments, and potential account closure and the forfeiting of any winnings. This includes GTO Wizard & other Solvers: Players are strictly prohibited from using GTO Wizard, any other solvers, equity calculators, or real-time strategic assistance tools while the poker client is open. Running such types of software simultaneously with the poker client is deemed a serious violation of our Terms and Conditions. We employ advanced monitoring systems to detect suspicious activity and prevent the use of RTA, and by participating, players agree to adhere to this policy and acknowledge that maintaining a fair and transparent gaming environment is our top priority.

12.8.12. Hacking: The Company strictly prohibits users from facilitating any viruses, Trojan horses, malware, worms or other computer programming routines that attempt to or may damage, disrupt, corrupt, misuse, detrimentally interfere with, surreptitiously intercept or expropriate, or gain unauthorised access to any system, data, information or the Company Services.

12.8.13. Jailbroken, Rooted or Emulated Devices: The Company Services cannot be used on jailbroken, rooted or emulated devices. Such devices are vulnerable to malware attacks and viruses, thus pose a risk for the device in use and the Services.

12.8.14. Chip-Dumping: Chip-dumping occurs when any user intentionally loses a hand in order to deliberately transfer his/her chips to another user. Any user who participates or attempts to participate in chip-dumping with any other user, including being the recipient of funds, while using the Website may be permanently banned from using the Service and Your Account may be terminated immediately.

12.8.15. Stream Sniping - Any attempt to gain an unfair advantage in real-time play through "stream sniping", defined as deliberate live observation, including but not limited to monitoring opponents' live streams or broadcasts, using third-party tools to analyse live gameplay, or sharing real-time information with others, is strictly prohibited. Violation of these terms may result in immediate disqualification, suspension, or banning from the platform, and may also lead to the forfeiture of winnings.

12.8.16. "Ghosting," defined as receiving or obtaining unauthorized assistance from another player or third party during live gameplay is strictly prohibited. Engaging in Ghosting undermines the integrity of the game, and any player found to be involved in such activity will be subject to immediate suspension, disqualification, and potential account closure. We reserve the right to monitor gameplay for suspicious activity and to take appropriate measures to enforce this policy, including account suspension or termination.

12.8.17. Datamining - Customers are strictly prohibited from engaging in datamining activities. Datamining is defined as the practice of compiling hand histories or player information by observing ongoing games without participating, using software tools to gather hand data without playing, or employing any other methods to extract and analyse game information outside of normal gameplay. The use of screen-scraping or any other techniques to gather data is also prohibited. Any attempt to engage in datamining undermines fair play and violates our terms of service. Players found to be involved in datamining activities will be subject to immediate account suspension, disqualification from ongoing games, and potential account closure and the forfeiting of any winnings.

12.8.18. Multi-Accounting – Creating and/or using multiple accounts is prohibited and indication that such practices have occurred will result in permanent account closure and confiscation of balance in accordance with the terms of service.
